Monday, May 5, 2003

Final scores can be misleading.

Take the Pittsburgh Passion's 32-7 loss to the unbeaten D.C. Divas Saturday night in the National Women's Football Association, for instance.

The Passion trailed the Divas, 2-0, at halftime and 10-7 going into the final period before the hosts exploded for 22 points.

Passion quarterback Lisa Horton went in from six yards out in the third quarter for the first touchdown scored against the Divas this season in three games. Natalie Bryne added the extra point.

The only scoring in the first half came when Tessa Nelson tackled Horton in the end zone for a safety.

Tara Kallal ran 36 yards for the Divas' first touchdown early in the second half.

Allyson Hamlin threw two touchdown passes in the fourth quarter for the Divas,

The Passion (1-3) are idle this weekend before resuming Saturday, May 17, against the winless Erie Illusion at Veterans Stadium.

The Illusion fell to 0-4 with a 34-13 loss to the Columbus Flames.
